NEAR ZERO HOUR FOR LICENCE DECALS

Lineups such as the one shown above are just a sample of the rush yet to come as Kelowna residents flock to the motor vehicle branch to renew their vehicle registration and plates for 1971. Decals for passenger plates are to be placed on the plates by Feb. 23, the deadline for renewal. The passenger plates, as such, government officials say, are good for three years, but decals must be purchased to show the registration has been renewed. Motorists found driving with expired decals are liable for prosecution.

LORD NELSON TURNS IN GRAVE

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A band played rock music, seven gogo girls danced on tables and others modeled fashions while sailors dined on roast beef, salad and pizza.

That, say most of the 10,000 sailors at Miramar Naval Air Station, makes their base the most "with it" in the new U.S. Navy.

"Don't ask me what I had for lunch," a lad of 19 said Wednesday.

"What with one gogo girl on my right and this model smiling at me on the left, I just couldn't concentrate on food."

Gogo luncheons are the latest innovations of Capt. Alfred W. Chandler, skipper of the base for Pacific Fleet fighter squadrons.

Rose Trial Rests

MONTREAL (CP) — The trial of Paul Rose, charged with the kidnapping of Pierre Laporte, was adjourned until Monday after key witness Bernard Lortie refused to add anything further to his testimony Friday.

Mr. Justice Marcel Nichols ordered the adjournment to give Lortie, one of four persons charged with the murder, time to reconsider. The 19-year-old student was ordered to be kept from speaking to anyone in the meantime.

Lortie, who peppered his testimony with statements that the trial was "a big farce" and that "the witness is hostile to the court," said the adjournment "won't change anything" as he was led from the courtroom.

The "burly Rose, 27, a former teacher, is charged in the case of the Quebec labor minister who was kidnapped in front of his suburban St. Lambert home Oct. 10. St. Lambert a week later.

Rose was not present at the Court of Queen's Bench proceedings, having been banished from the trial last week following repeated outburst and delays. The trial began Jan. 25.

Other witnesses called included Mr. Laporte's sister Odile Laporte, a 43-year-old nurse, Claude Laporte, an 18-year-old nephew, and Michel Lacaille, 23, a roads department employee.

Lortie told the court his occupation was member of the Front de Liberation du Quebec, his residence the Gaspé and his age "19 years of slavery under the establishment."

The outlawed FLQ claimed responsibility for the Laporte death and the Oct. 5 abduction of British envoy James Cross.

Asked to take the oath, he responded: "I swear before the people of Quebec that I will never testify against my comrades."

Paris Averts Student Strife

PARIS (Reuters) — The French government appeared today to have averted its worst threat from riots since May, 1968, with the release of jailed 18-year-old student Gilles Guilot.

The Guilot affair, which snowballed from a minor incident into a major embarrassment for the government, ended Friday when a Paris Appeal Court reversed Guilot's conviction on charges of punching a policeman. Guilot had been sentenced to three months.

The acquittal, coming against the background of a political row touched off by jailing Gaullist politician Rene Tomand, who alleged that French magistrates had shown cowardice in dealing with student agitators, appears to have satisfied everyone.

Guilot's release Friday night defused a potentially dangerous situation and the 15,000 students who had gathered outside the law courts in protests against his sentence quickly dispersed, leaving only a handful of die-hard leftists to battle with police.

SETS RECORD PRICE LONDON (AP) — A small still life painting by the 19th century American artist William Michael Hartnett sold for $78,120 at Christie's auction Friday. The price is a record for the artist. The same painting sold for only $100 in the same sales room in 1897. The new owner is the Armand Hammer Foundation of Los Angeles.

Drive Into Laos Strikes Trouble

Williams Again Raps Bennetts

VICTORIA (CP) — A member of the opposition New Democratic Party continued to press his charges Friday in the British Columbia legislature that "the friends of those in power" are profiting by speculation along public highways in the province.

Bob Williams (NDP - Vancouver East) said Premier W. A. C. Bennett's sons, Russell and William, are among land speculators who have profited from access granted to the Kamloops bypass on the Trans-Canada Highway.

He also charged that in the Westbank area, across Okanagan Lake from Kelowna, 1,000 feet of former public foreshore which he valued at $250,000 had been turned into a 12-lot subdivision by a company which included among its directors a member of the Bennett family.

The NDP member was later attacked in the house by Attorney-General Leslie Peterson as a member whose consuming interest was making him "the world's greatest master of using innuendo and smear to besmirch the reputations of innocent people."

Mr. Peterson said Mr. Williams is more interested in "playing private detective and snooping around the province" than in representing the voters of Vancouver East in the legislature.

Earlier in the session, Mr. Williams had charged that the premier's sons are among "riff-raff artists and millionaires on the make" who are creating fortunes from land speculation along highways in the central Okanagan.

In his speech Friday he stressed he wasn't discussing charges of legality or illegality. At issue, he said, were sins of omission rather than commission because he said the government and specifically the premier establishes policy on assessments, taxes, and the balance between private profits and public gain.

"My quarrel is with the premier," Mr. Williams said. "He sets the rules which benefit the few at the expense of the many and he can change these rules."

He demanded a free civil service and "access to all government files by the public on both sides of the house."

He also replied to charges by Herb Capozzi (SC - Vancouver Centre) that he planned a speculative venture on an island within the District of North Vancouver, and had attempted to use his office to obtain rezoning of the land in question.

"I have never and will not request rezoning of this property, which has been owned by myself and friends for the past seven or eight years and where we have spent our summers, and the island is not for sale," he said.

Another opposition member, Alan Williams (L - West Vancouver - Howe Sound), Friday read to the house a statement made by three hospital officials from Clearwater.

The statement testified that a tape recording and transcript of a meeting in Vancouver last November are correct in quoting Health Minister Ralph Lofmark as threatening to look into the qualifications of Dr. Rysz Regheer.

Move To Throw Out Leader Stirs Palestine Guerrillas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Palestine Liberation Army moved openly today to unseat Yasser Arafat as leader of the PLO in a resistance movement, touching off the biggest internal power struggle in the guerrillas' history.

Brig. Abdulrazzak Yahya, PLA commander-in-chief, made public demands that Arafat's ruling central committee be dissolved and that all guerrilla organizations be brought under the PLA.

Yahya's demands came in notes published in Damascus before the 27-man central committee was to begin meetings in the Syrian capital on the growing momentum towards a peaceful settlement in the Middle East.

President Tito of Yugoslavia is returning to Belgrade today from Cairo with the blessing of Soviet Communist party leader Leonid Brezhnev for his one-man Middle East peace mission. He is expected to inform President Nixon immediately of the results of his week of discussions with Egyptian leaders.

"We hope that your talks in Cairo and your future contacts will constitute a further step forward in the role you undertake for peace in the world," Brezhnev told the Yugoslav leader in a message published today by Cairo newspapers.

S. Vietnamese Stopped Cold In Attack On Ho Chi Minh Trail

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's 12-day-old drive against the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos apparently was stopped cold and in deep trouble today as the North Vietnamese launched a heavy counter-offensive against both sides of the frontier.

Elements of a 9,000-man United States blocking force on the South Vietnamese side also came under attack and a half-dozen more American helicopters flying in support of the South Vietnamese were reported shot down.

The fighting was the heaviest since the 16,000 South Vietnamese entered Laos to cut North Vietnam's principal supply network.

A South Vietnamese ranger position overlooking a main artery of the trail was overrun with heavy losses, military spokesmen said, and two ranger patrol bases nearby remained under siege for a third successive day.

An American adviser on the South Vietnamese side told Associated Press photographer Rick Merron: "The rangers are holding on by the skin of their teeth."

Field reports said more than 50 Saigon troops were killed Friday and today, more than 200 wounded and 26 missing.

South Vietnamese field commanders estimated 600 North Vietnamese troops were slain under an onslaught of artillery fire and air support by U.S. fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships.

The U.S. command reported two attacks on U.S. positions north of Khe Sanh, on the South Vietnamese side of the border, and acknowledged the loss of two more helicopters. A spokesman said five Americans were killed, 14 were wounded and three were missing.

U.S. B-52s struck inside South Vietnam for the first time in nearly two weeks.

The eight jet bombers attacked a North Vietnamese buildup threatening U.S. forces just south of the demilitarized zone.

rounded one of the hills, and U.S. helicopters trying to get in to lift out South Vietnamese wounded and a wounded American crew chief came under heavy anti-aircraft fire. They had to turn back.

In Saigon, a South Vietnamese military spokesman indicated the drive was in trouble. He said South Vietnamese troops had not advanced for three days and the lead elements were still at a point about 17½ miles northwest of the Vietnamese border.

"We have stopped because of the weather and because of the resistance of the enemy," he said.

The South Vietnamese also are in trouble because heavy anti-aircraft fire and certain weather, often rainy with low cloud cover, are causing problems for U.S. aircraft flying resupply and fire-support missions.

GENEVA (CP) — The United Nations wheat conference agreed today on a new three-year wheat trade and food aid convention after the Soviet Union withdrew its objections to European Common Market participation.

While the Soviet Union still insisted it does not recognize the Common Market as a country, it agreed to a compromise which gives the Common Market the attributes of a country for signing purposes.

The wheat convention is a bare-bones convention under which the 12 exporting and 49 importing countries or parties pledged to maintain the spirit of orderly marketing but with no obligations on maximum or minimum prices or obligations on quantities to be sold and purchased.

The hope expressed in the convention is that the council may at some future time find the situation ripe for another attempt to negotiate a price-frame pact though no time is fixed for such an attempt.

Six Men Slay Bengal Candidate

CALCUTTA (AP) — Six men attacked one of India's veteran politicians on the street Saturday and stabbed him to death—the second candidate in West Bengal's election campaign to be slain in four days.

The death of Hemen Basu, 70, set off protest strikes in parts of Calcutta.

Two persons were taken into custody later.

Nixon Assures Red Chinese

LONDON (AP) — President Nixon's administration has taken steps to assure Communist China that the United States-backed invasion by South Vietnamese forces into Laos does not threaten China, Communist sources say.

The United States and China have no formal political relations, but the U.S. signals were said to have reached Peking through a variety of channels, informal and undisclosed, that have been in the past.

U.S. authorities maintain they have detected no firm evidence to show that the Chinese contemplate military intervention, to support their North Vietnamese or Pathet Lao allies.

An article in Communist China's official newspaper, the People's Daily, warned Nixon today that the Chinese "know very well how to deal with U.S. aggressors." It did not elaborate, but accused the Americans of "spreading the flames of war to the door of China."

Union Feels 'Stab In Back' As B.C. Trucks Stay Parked

VANCOUVER (CP) — Most of British Columbia's trucking industry was shut down Friday by a lockout, and a move by Attorney-General Leslie Peterson to get the wheels rolling again was termed by a union leader as "the worst stab in the back ever perpetrated against a trade union" in B.C.

Three moves came in rapid succession Friday, starting with a strike at noon by about 50 of the province's 3,500 teamsters against McGregor Warehouses in Vancouver.

The Automotive Transport Association, which represents about 80 per cent of the B.C. trucking industry, then implemented an earlier threat that "a strike against one will mean a strike against all" and called upon member firms to lock out the teamsters at the completion of the Friday day shift.

Mr. Peterson intervened immediately, giving notice in the provincial legislature of a motion which would order resumption of normal operations if the strike-lockout is still in effect Tuesday.

Ed Lawson, head of the Teamsters Union in Canada, then issued his "stab in the back" statement said the attorney-general's move "signals the end of free collective bargaining in the province."

SUSPECTS MOVE He said the notice of motion suggested a "pre-arrangement" between the attorney-general's department and the employers.

ATA Director Carl Anshelm termed Mr. Lawson's charge "absolutely ridiculous."

At issue in the dispute is the Teamsters' demand for a "struck goods" clause in a proposed new contract. The Teamsters want the right to refuse to handle goods moved from behind picket lines by non-union workers. A agreement was reached earlier on wages and hours.

Although full effectiveness of the lockout will not be known until Monday, Mr. Anshelm said certain areas of the economy, including construction, port loadings and transport of oil, would be hit immediately.

Although the major firms in the province are members of the ATA, Mr. Lawson said about 40 trucking companies would continue to operate.

Controversial B.C. labor legislation gives the government the right to end any strike or lockout with a "back to work" order and the right to declare any finding of the B.C. mediation commission binding on both parties. The commission started a closed inquiry into the dispute Friday, but the Teamsters are boycotting the hearing.

by the air force, the White House was asked to explain why President Nixon had taken the action.

A spokesman in the White House press office said that "nothing has come from the president."

The Associated Press has 3,285 radio and television broadcast members. It was not known how many of these went off the air because of the erroneous message.

Popping Pep Pill Would Be Curbed

VIENNA (Reuters) — A six-week conference on narcotics which ended here Friday approved an international agreement aimed at limiting use of such drugs as LSD and pep pills to medical and scientific areas.

A total of 250 delegates from 71 countries took part in the conference organized by the United Nations.

Flight Of British Capital Seen If Entry Into ECM Achieved

LONDON (AP) — One of former prime minister Harold Wilson's closest associates predicted a mass flight of British people and capital across the English Channel if Britain joins the European Common Market.

Peter Shore, secretary for economic affairs in the Labor government ousted in last June's elections, spoke to a political rally in the most candid terms yet used by a Labor leader in a developing trend of marked coolness toward Britain's application to join the six-nation trading bloc.

Once Britain lifts monetary exchange controls as a price of entry, Shore said, "at first a trickle, then a thickening stream of British people will follow British capital and British firms across the channel to where the kobs are."

He described Prime Minister Edward Heath's Conservative government as "ready to surrender crucial powers over national policy and subject itself to an alien regime of taxation and agriculture."

Pointing out that firms, capital and labor are free to move around within Common Market countries, he added that "British capital and firms would be powerfully drawn to areas in Europe where expansion and profits are high."

Shore also predicted that before the end of 1971 "our Common Market application will be buried beneath an avalanche of public protest."

State Of Emergency Grips U.S. — But It Was Only A Wrong Tape

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States radio stations were erroneously placed on the alert today that a national emergency existed and that all regular broadcast activities were to halt at once.

But the alert, which moved on the radio wires of The Associated Press and United Press International at 9:32 a.m. EST, was cancelled at 9:50 a.m.

A spokesman for the American Telephone and Telephone Co., which provided a leased wire to the two news services, said the U.S. Air Force at Cheyenne Mountain in Colorado had put on the wrong message tape.

The spokesman said the normal tape explains that the message is merely a test but the message put out today lacked this advice to stations.

The White House Communications Agency termed the error an inadvertent release of the wrong tape.

Only the president can order release of the emergency notification.

Immediately upon receipt of the original, erroneous release

A detective told a Toronto court Bannan, a former lawyer, had defrauded and stolen $64,624 from clients between 1964 and 1970. Bannan was ruled unfit to hold office as magistrate following a royal commission investigation into alleged misconduct in 1968.

The immediate past president of the Canadian Construction Association says labor disputes in British Columbia last summer cost the provincial economy between $350 and $400 million. R. G. Saunders, president of Smith Bros. and Wilson Ltd., of Vancouver, told a Vancouver service club meeting Thursday the dollar losses were the result of the impasse between management and labor that brought construction to a virtual standstill between April and August.

Company To Forfeit $4 Million But Still Plans To Continue

OTTAWA (CP) — Bushnell Communications Ltd., of Ottawa announced Friday it will be unable to go through with an $18.7 million broadcasting purchase and will forfeit a $4 million deposit.

Stuart Griffiths, president of the company, said Bushnell has been unable to raise the money to purchase CFCF-TV and radio stations CFCF, CFCX and CFQR-FM, all in Montreal, from Canadian Marconi Co., Montreal.

Bushnell has until Feb. 26 to raise the money but Mr. Griffiths said his possible backers finished an investigation of the situation last week, and although they found no problems in his own firm, "they just decided not to make an investment in Canadian broadcasting."

Less than two weeks ago Bushnell forfeited an $825,000 deposit when it was unable to go through with the purchase of six Ontario broadcasting companies for $7.1 million.

OWNS TWO STATIONS
Despite the forfeitures, Mr. Griffiths said, Bushnell is still solvent and still expects to be able to expand.

The company owns CJOH-TV in Ottawa and CJSS-TV in Cornwall.

Last July it was given permission by the Canadian Radio-Television Commission to purchase the Marconi stations and six broadcasting interests in Ontario.

The six are CKWS radio, CKWS-FM and CKWS-TV, Kingston; CHEX radio, CHEX-FM and CHEX-TV, Peterborough; CFCH radio and CFCH-TV North Bay; CKGB radio and CKGB-FM, Timmins; CJKL radio, Kirkland Lake, and CJTL radio, New Liskeard.

Bushnell shares have plunged from a high of $29.50 in May, 1969, to a low of $2.75 a short time ago. They closed Friday at $4.

R. N. Brining, the company's vice-president and treasurer, said Bushnell could be confirming its expansion plans in the next four months and has been hoping to add cable systems to its operations, despite past rejections by the CRTC of Bushnell cable plans.

In Montreal, Don Martz, president of broadcasting for Marconi, said:

"We're really not quite sure what we're going to do."

Montreal Teachers Stay Out And Solution Still Unsighted

MONTREAL (CP) — The fourth week of teacher walkouts over job reclassification in Quebec ended Friday with a solution apparently no closer than it was when teachers began dramatizing their complaints Jan. 25.

Negotiations between the teachers, Quebec government and school boards have been halted since last Monday and a suggestion by the Montreal Catholic school board for mediation was all but dismissed Friday by Jean-Paul L'Allier, civil service minister responsible for teacher negotiations.

The government and school boards have continued to refuse discussions until all teachers return to class while the 9,500-member Alliance des Professeurs de Montreal, which has spearheaded the protest, has repeated it will not end walkouts until talks resume.

Reclassification, agreed to in a contract retroactive to September, 1968, has downgraded qualifications and salaries for hundreds of teachers who are seeking a review of the issue.

Members of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers, which represents most English-speaking teachers in the province, were to meet in Montreal this weekend to discuss further action.

MANY DISCUSS CONFLICT
One of the matters expected to be discussed is apparent conflict within the Protestant teachers' ranks which showed up Thursday when only about half the 3,000 members heeded a call to walk out while the rest reported for classes.

In developments Friday: Yves Martin, deputy education minister, told directors of junior colleges and school boards to deduct pay from teachers who participate in illegal strike action.

About 1,500 members of the Montreal Alliance continued rotating walkouts, cancelling classes for about 30,000 French-speaking Catholic students.

Students also missed classes in Chambly, south of Montreal, Deux-Montagnes, west of the city, Yamaska, about 40 miles east of Montreal, and Laurentides, about 90 miles north of Montreal, as teachers held study sessions.

Creditist members of the Quebec national assembly issued a statement in support of the teachers' action, adding that reclassification should not be applied retroactively.

A group of school boards in the Eastern Townships supported the Montreal Catholic board's request for mediation and called for a quick settlement of the issue which has disrupted schooling across the province.

Proposed Clean-Air Act Rated As Lacking Teeth

OTTAWA (CP) — As motherhood bills go, the opposition pronounced Friday, the proposed federal clean air act is somewhat over-rated.

The legislation, designed to give the federal government power to take a national initiative against air pollution, is up for second reading in the Commons.

While most opposition spokesmen approved the bill in principle, many contended that it is a less formidable anti-pollution weapon than would appear.

Fisheries Minister Jack Davis, to become environment minister upon passage of the government reorganization bill, said the clean air bill would effect research into air pollution, arrangements for the establishment of air pollution abatement projects, and the enforcement of air quality standards nationally.

There would be national emission standards for smokestacks, automobiles, and so on, with fines of $200,000 provided for violators shown to have constituted "a significant danger to the health of persons."

Air quality objectives would be established, so air could be rated as "desirable," "acceptable" or just "tolerable" and so the various levels of government could be prepared to move in with all their resources when the air was designated "intolerable."

NOT IMPRESSED
Ran Harding (NDP-Kootenay West), his party's environmental critic, was not impressed despite his concession that the bill represents "a step forward."

The bill, he said, would not give the minister responsibility for automobile pollution, which represented 60 per cent of all air pollution. That field would be left to the transport department, and thus the federal approach to air pollution would be as "fragmented" as its approach to water pollution.

The bill depended on the co-operation of the provinces because the federal government insisted on "hiding behind the constitution."

Canadians, said Mr. Harding, "are sick and tired of having the solution of pollution problems delayed because of mixed jurisdictions."

Mr. Davis agreed that considerable emphasis would have to be placed on co-operation with the provinces, including formal agreements to designate air quality problem areas and to develop special air control measures and enforcement procedures.

PROVINCES PLEASED
The provinces had all welcomed the federal clean air initiative and were prepared to accept national emission standards.

"All they ask is that they be consulted, that they have some say in the development of these particular objectives, guidelines and standards."

Mr. Harding's strongest complaint was that industries would not be subject to emission standards unless they constituted a significant danger to people's health.

Nobody need worry about emission causing "a little bit of discomfort, a little bit of nausea or some skin irritation."

Gordon Aiken (PC-Parry Sound-Muskoka) said that prosecutions would be very difficult using the criterion of significant danger to health—the headlines about $200,000 fines didn't really mean much when considered in that light.

The bill also failed to provide any instrument to distribute federal funds to the provinces.

"We might as well be honest about it. The provincial legislatures are interested in working with the federal government in such areas when money is to be provided."

Officials keeping pines as part of natural beauty

'Save The Ponderosa' An Order During Distillery Construction

At Hiram Walker's $30 million distillery, under construction at Winfield, bulldozers and cranes are being used to support some of the precious Ponderosa pines while excavation for water mains is in progress. The effort to save the trees began two years ago, before the first sod was turned on the 160-acre distillery site.

Originally, the building plans called for clearing everything off the site and then on completion, re-planting and landscaping, but Hiram Walker became aware of the beauty of the Ponderosa and how appropriate they are to the Okanagan environment.

Also, being slow growing trees, it would have taken too long to replace them.

It was decided that the site of the new distillery should be kept as closely as possible to its natural state and every effort would be made to retain the greatest possible number of the trees.

Prior to the start of construction, Denis Patton, Walkerville Technical Supervisor, was appointed as site representative. Denis arrived in the Okanagan in June, 1969, as the first Hiram Walker Distillery official, with strict instructions on what was to be done about trees.

GOOD EXCUSE

The first construction specifications were that no trees larger than 12 inches at the butt were to be removed except in cases of absolute necessity, and then only after the contractor had given the site representative his reasons in writing. "In blood," says Mr. Patton.

The difficulties faced by the contractors as a result of these specifications can well be imagined, considering that one of the distillery buildings occupies three and a half acres of ground; but under the watchful eye of Mr. Patton there was no choice but to conform. As the work progressed Mr. Patton's dedicated concern for the trees proved to be catching and he began to find more allies than he had anticipated among the contractors, construction foremen and even the heavy equipment operators.

Working as a team they were able to save enough trees to ensure that the natural beauty of the plant site would be maintained.

When a tree really had to go it was like losing a friend. In one instance an attempt was made to transplant a 60 foot tree—this was done by P. Kiewit and Sons Co. of Canada Ltd., Vancouver, under the supervision of Mr. Patton and was a major construction project of its own.

The operation was successful but unfortunately, after a valiant struggle, the patient died.

BEAUTY SPOT

An interest in plant beautification is traditional with Hiram Walker and the grounds of the Head Office building in Walkerville have been one of the beauty spots of the Windsor-Walkerville area from the time of the official opening of this building in 1894 until the present day.

The office building itself is an exceptionally fine example of 16th Century Italian Renaissance Architecture.

The formal gardens, trees and lawns along the banks of the Detroit River are a green oasis in the midst of a heavily industrialized area.

When Hiram Walker planned an expansion program in the West, officials decided that in a younger, more rural community, it would be fitting to depart from traditional architecture and to build in a more modern concept, using color and design most suitable to the natural surrounding.

JET TRAINERS TO REFUEL HERE

Canadian Forces T33 jet trainers are using the Kelowna Airport one or twice a week, says airport manager E. N. Davison.

The aircraft have used the Kelowna facilities as a refueling stop to provide pilots and navigators training in flights between Canadian Forces Bases Cold Lake, Alta., and Comox.

"These military flights are normal and do not bother civilian air traffic," Mr. Davison said.

In the past, these flights originated in Edmonton or stopped in either Penticton or Kamloops for refueling before flying to Comox to either deliver or pick up aircraft for maintenance.

REPORT INDICATES...

Spring Runoff Over Average

Snowpack mountain run-off this year in the southern Interior is expected to be slightly above average, says a snow survey report by the water investigations branch of the department of land, forests and water resources.

The report indicates most Valley meteorological stations have recorded "above normal" precipitation in the southern half of the province during the snow accumulation period of November through January.

Precipitation was especially heavy during January with above to well above normal precipitation.

The report adds that due to the predominance of arctic air over most of the province winter weather has been colder than usual, with mean monthly Valley temperatures for November and December several degrees below normal.

Although the cold air persisted in the northern part of the province during January, an influx of warmer air covered southern regions in the latter half of the month resulting in mean January temperatures well below normal in northern regions, and close to or slightly below normal readings in southern regions.

According to a statement last month by district water rights engineer E. D. Anthony, the water situation would be "all right" if snow fall and run-off were average. Both Okanagan Mission and Rutland are among areas facing water shortages with several reports of wells running dry.

No similar problems are expected in the city which takes its water directly from Okanagan Lake. The lake level is controlled by the provincial government, with an annual inflow of between 80,000 to 630,000 acre feet. Another 80,000 acre feet comes from dams on tributaries.

Of this, about 225,000 acre feet is used from the system with another 150,000 acre feet used for irrigation purposes.

The following is a breakdown of locations, elevations and water equivalent comparisons in inches.

Revised Industrial Training -Canada Manpower Program

This is the last of six articles dealing with the objectives and program of the Canada Manpower Centre. The series is presented in light of the high unemployment rate in the Central Okanagan.

Canada Manpower facilitates the Canadian labor market and the nation's economy in a number of ways, says Kelowna Manpower centre manager Mrs. Alice Runnalls.

One such assistance plan where industry and labor adjust to technological changes reducing production losses and hardships to employees is the consultative service and the department's training-industry program.

The consultative service negotiates joint agreements between the department and industry to study the effects of impending technological change and determine future manpower requirements.

Once the implications of new equipment and operating methods are determined, training-industry contracts are arranged to upgrade skills and retrain employees for the new operations.

In both cases, the department may pay up to 50 per cent of the costs of the program.

The difference between this and regular training programs is, this program is operated by a company or industrial association with the equipment and shop facilities used as an industrial classroom.

Often the services are used in major labor market adjustments and can be applied to help solve existing labor force problems.

Another service offered is the mobility program—which may provide financial assistance in relocating unemployed people who must move to a new location where employment opportunities are available in their occupation.

The more the department becomes involved with such working agreements, the more apparent becomes the need for manpower planning.

As a result, industry is continually stressed of the program's importance and why industry is encouraged to assess and plan ahead for its manpower requirements to avoid pitfalls and future labor force skill requirements.

Airport Use Climbing

The number of inbound and outbound passengers using the Kelowna Airport in 1970 increased by some 16 per cent to 81,261 according to figures released by the airport manager's office.

Last year's figure represents an increase of 11,035 arrivals and departures over the 1969 sum of 70,226. It also represents an increase of almost 700 per cent over the 1964 figure when only 12,406 people used the port.

The figures represent only commercial passengers on scheduled airline flights and do not include private or charter flights.

The numerical explosion also continued in the first month of this year with 6,042 passengers passing through the terminal. This represents an increase of 868 over the Jan. 1970 tally of 6,074.

Festival Entries March 1

Deadline for entries in the 45th annual Okanagan Valley Music Festival, scheduled for Vernon April 19 to 24, is March 1.

All entries should be mailed to the secretary of the Okanagan Music Festival, Kelowna branch, P.O. Box 143, Kelowna, on or before that date.

The branch has announced changes in the printed syllabus to certain competition classes. Class 106, vocal solo for girls under 16, has been changed from the Shepherdess to A Highland Lullaby, by George Coult and Frederick Harris, publisher.

The Class 11 school choir for selected Grades 4 to 7 has been changed to an "own choice" option in A and B designations.

Competitors are also asked to check with the Vernon festival secretary if music is required for Class 382 in the printed program.

Youth Injured

RCMP are investigating a pedestrian-motorbike collision Friday in Okanagan which sent one youth to hospital.

Police would not release any details of the accident nor the name of the driver involved.

Hospital officials said David Uvann, 16, of Okanagan, who sustained a broken leg in the mishap, was in satisfactory condition.

KINSMEN PICK HOPEFUL

Kelowna Kinsmen Club 1971 Lady of the Lake candidate, Lesley Hilton, is a 17-year-old natural blonde from Langley, B.C., who thinks being a Regatta royalty nominee is "really great." A Grade 12 student at Dr. Knox school, Lesley has blue eyes, stands five feet, five inches high and weighs 120 pounds. She has been a Kelowna resident since 1968 and spent six years in Vernon. A lover of all school sports, she has competed in the British Columbia track and field finals, has a particular weakness for volleyball, swims, and is going to learn to ski soon. Her hobbies are sewing and reading. In a choice of careers, she hopes to teach physical education, mathematics or French. Standing behind Lesley is Kinsmen candidate chairman Gerry Cole, who describes the club's candidate as "formidable." The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hilton, 1410 Alta Vista, Lesley was picked from a bevy of six girls at a special meeting Feb. 4.

SEEN and HEARD

Kelowna Kiwanians will select their Lady of the Lake candidate at the next meeting of the club Monday at the Capri. Several prospective candidates will attend the meeting and speak for a short period so that members can vote on their choice.

Kelowna is not the only city in the province with an official coat of arms, says Mrs. Norman McCormick of 1889 Richter St. She happens to know for certain because her son Colin, born and raised in the city, designed a coat of arms for Powell River two years ago, which was adopted by that community in a Canada Centennial competition. The coat of arms, adds Mrs. McCormick, has been approved by the College of Heraldry in Britain.

Pat Denton of Vernon chuckled out loud this week as he read the visitor's register at the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce. Visitors Mr. and Mrs. C. Peterson, in the column reserved for remarks, described Kelowna as "a lovely little city." The couple would obviously enjoy the "little city" aspect of Kelowna after having travelled from their home metropolis of Milk River, Alta.

Probation officer Joe Lobb, a panel member speaking on the status of women at Kelowna Secondary School, dutifully informed the predominantly female audience he has nothing against women. "Every man should own one," he said.

ONE EMERGENCY

The Kelowna Fire Department processed six routine and one emergency ambulance calls Friday, as well as covering one accident. The ambulance unit of the department received a call at 9:20 p.m. to a motorcycle accident in Okanagan. One person was taken to hospital. No fires were reported.

Mining Stock Speculation To Be Studied This Week

The continuing adult education and recreation series sponsored jointly by School District 23 (Kelowna) and the Kelowna recreation department, will start Monday with a one-session course in mining stock speculation.

Conducted by Kaz Taneda and Bud Truswell, the course will be held at Kelowna Secondary School at 7:30 p.m.

Skipping a day, the program will continue Wednesday with a five-session class in secondary school mathematics for parents, followed Thursday with a one-session panel discussion on living with older people. Discussion will be led by Dr. Frank McNair, local psychiatrist.

Thursday will also feature something special by a former night school student, Albert Bolduc, who will divulge some of the secrets of placer mining which helped him get $1,000 richer in four days of mining in the Yukon last year. Two of the course's eight sessions will be held in the field.

This month's offering will end Saturday with a one-session course in defensive driving, which will be held at Kelowna Secondary School from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Projected courses beginning March 1 will include a National Film Board presentation to help French language students stay fluent. The same date will accommodate a three-session course in cosmetics; a six-session course in store clerk training for adults; a 10-session course in PABX switchboard, and a 20-session course in advanced bookkeeping.

Understanding your teacher will be the subject of a one-session discussion March 3 beginning at 8 p.m. The same date will offer the beginning of a five-session course in geology and rock identification.

March 4 will feature a film discussion on our polluted planet and water pollution at 8 p.m. Unless otherwise specified, all courses will be held at Kelowna Secondary School at 7:30 p.m., and further information as to registration and information is available at the adult education office at 2.4891.

Brotherhood Talk Monday

Rev. Francis Lewis of the Rutland United Church will be guest speaker at the 8th annual Knights of Columbus Brotherhood banquet Monday at the Capri.

Sponsored jointly by Kelowna and the new Rutland council, the function affords the opportunity to members of bringing guests who are not members of the Roman Catholic Church. Head table guests will include representatives from service clubs and Kelowna and Rutland organizations. Banquet chairman will be John Deschner, past grand knight of the Kelowna council.

In the past guest speakers have included Archbishop Catchpole, Welfare Minister P. A. Gagliardi and Rev. Francis Goddard.

Rev. Lewis will speak on the subject of brotherhood. The banquet begins at 6:30 p.m.

...Sunny

Skies should be sunny today and Sunday except for extensive patches of low cloud in some valleys.

Shoes should cloud over late Sunday afternoon.

Friday's high was 39, the overnight low 32 with a trace of precipitation.

Low tonight and high Sunday should be 25 and 38.

Funeral Monday For Long-Time City Resident

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday from St. Michael and All Angels' Anglican Church for Mrs. Lillian Alice Wood, 77, of Whispering Pine Lodge, who died Wednesday in Kelowna General Hospital.

Born in Northern Ireland in 1893, she came to Canada in 1913, settling in Kelowna. She was predeceased by her husband in 1966 and is survived by one son, Henry, of Vancouver, four grandchildren, two brothers, John of Lavington and Medwin, of Lumby, three sisters Mrs. V. (Annie) Tyler, of London, England, Mrs. E. (Sarah) Marven, of Coldstream, Mrs. C. H. (Lucy) McCormick, of Toronto, and 11 nephews and nieces.

The Garden Chapel Funeral Directors are in charge of funeral arrangements.

MAYOR ENJOYS TEA

Kelowna Mayor Hilbert Roth enjoys a cup of coffee Friday after officially opening the new facilities for Centennial Club 76 in the Monashee complex on Ellis

Street. In declaring the new premises open, Mayor Roth said the city was negotiating for the post office building as a possible site for recreation activities for the area's retired citizens, adding retired residents would soon have their own recreational building, Club 76, with 61 mem-

End Of Century Tuned To Hunt For New Things

If the recent past is any guide, the last third of the twentieth century will be characterized by an unprecedented quest for novelty. The ancient Athenian search for "something newer" is the mark on the forehead of this generation.

On every hand we hear of change: the new morality, new theology, new religions, new drugs, new cures, new math, new grammar, new hemlines, new hair lengths, new media of communication, new ventures into space, new forms of music and art, new architectural break-throughs, new ways of transport, new comforts, new pleasures, new ways of thought control, new forms of exploitation, new vices, new crimes, new tortures, new forms of combat.

This concept of change is best understood when set against the immutability of God himself. We squint into the microcosm and find that what we thought to be stable is nothing but whirling hits held together by molecular cohesion. We gaze into outer space and ponder the apparently random movements of an expanding universe. We look into our own lives and are dismayed by the churning battle between conflicting drives.

At such a time, in such a state, how thrilling it is to be reassured that God is the same. He does not evolve, or develop, or "phase in," or pop on a wig. He is God! He is the same yesterday, today and forever. He is our dwelling place in all generations. The living Lord, our loving heavenly Father, has not shortened his arm, nor has he lengthened it. He is the one fixed stake to which our spirits may cling in the flux of existence.

Once we understand that there is a stable principle behind all reality, our attitude towards daily experience alters. We look at time in the perspective of eternity. We discover how little in life there is that is really new. We learn that nothing has interrupted the ways of communication that God firmly established between himself and man at the cross. If we repent of our evil and turn to the Lord in simple faith and trust, he will open the door.

Chorus To Song Of Woe

Expressions of concern by NATO officers to Canadian correspondents over the Soviet naval buildup in northern waters is another chorus to a song of woe that is being heard in some Western capitals.

The concern was expressed last week to correspondents who accompanied Defence Minister Donald Macdonald of Canada during a tour of NATO facilities in Norway.

They could have heard similar stories elsewhere. Few weeks go by when somebody is not delivering a warning about Soviet ships.

In recent months, there have been United States charges that the Soviets were building a naval base in Cuba. Britain almost wrecked the Commonwealth with its plans to arm the South African navy to help guard the Cape of Good Hope sealanes against the growing Soviet fleet in the Indian Ocean.

Recently, the British head of the NATO military committee in Brussels said the Soviet have more submarines than all NATO countries combined.

Judging from recent remarks of a retired U.S. admiral, this concern is just what the Soviets want. For the admiral, Arthur W. Radford, former chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff, said a fleet can be a diplomatic instrument without firing a shot.

Warnings about Soviet naval build-ups are not new. But the big crunch came last April and May when four Soviet fleets held manoeuvres in the Pacific, Baltic, Arctic and Black Sea.

The fact that a Soviet fleet could turn up almost anywhere was a far cry from 1956 when Admiral Sergei Gorshkov took over a navy that was primarily made up of coastal-defence forces.

Estimates last year were that the Soviet navy had grown to 25 cruisers, 100 destroyers, 1,500 smaller craft including the well-known spy trawlers, 355 submarines including 75 nuclear-powered and two helicopter carriers.

Gorshkov said after the manoeuvres that his navy had shown a "high level of preparation, tactical maturity and ability to carry out complicated multi-stage combat actions."

"Ships of the Soviet navy are systematically present in all oceans, including areas of the presence of navies of NATO," he said.

"Such a situation is undoubtedly not to the liking of imperialist hawks."

Somebody pulled a boo-boo in the monkey schedule, and on Friday night the Kamloops Chiefs turned up to play the Kelowna-Penticton Combines, only to find the Vernon and Combines set to play. The Chiefs "made like the fans" and became spectators. The Combines won 9-8 in a game that saw Vernon faller in the dying seconds of the game.

Quebec Press States Views On Assortment Of Events

This is a selection of editorials on current topics, translated from the French-language press of Canada.

Quebec L'Action: Premier Robert Bourassa (said) ... the "seasonally adjusted" unemployment rate has dropped to 8.1 per cent from 8.5 per cent.

It nevertheless remains that, according to the most recent federal statistics, the unemployment rate—counting all the unemployed, whether seasonal workers or not—now has reached 10 per cent in Quebec.

In the Commons, the opposition parties took advantage of the release of these statistics to launch an attack against government policy.

When measures were taken last year to wipe out inflation, it was known that the unemployment rate was going to rise, especially in winter, but did anyone foresee that the situation would deteriorate to this point?

For the country in general, the unemployment rate has gone to eight per cent from 6.5 per cent, but as Quebec normally gets hit much harder than the other provinces—except the Atlantic provinces where the rate is 10.2 per cent—we are the ones who are especially paying the costs of redressing inflation.

Here's hoping the economic situation will soon be corrected, for no one is happy in the present context.

The unemployed would certainly like to find work rather than live on social welfare. On the other hand, the number of taxpayers who pay into the social welfare funds is reduced in the same proportion as the number of unemployed increases, and the burden becomes more and more impossible for both sides. — Roger Bruneau (Feb. 15)

Trois-Rivières Le Nouvelliste: Quebec Conservatives seem to be seriously considering the formation of an "independent bloc" if the national party led by Robert Stanfield rejects their demands. This "independent bloc" would play the role of a lone wolf ... when it did not share the positions of the national party, notably on constitutional questions and on questions of interest to the Quebec people.

This ultimatum, which the Quebec wing of the Conservative party has just presented to the national directors, seems to us at first sight very ambiguous, not to say loony. Either the Quebec Conservatives want ... to make important policies accepted by the directors of the national party or ... they intend to become a sort of "separatist party" acting at the national level.

WORLD GLIMPSES

STOPS TRAINS STOCKHOLM (AP) — A cat named Tallus tied up Stockholm's subway service by escaping from his mistress and running into a rail tunnel. All trains were stopped until Tallus was found.

ROPE TRUCK BAKER, Ore. (AP) — Alfred Harris told state police he was driving through town when two "drunken cowboys" roped the air vent on his truck-trailer rig. Police said they recovered the rope, but not the cowboys.

INCUBATORS DONATED TORONTO (CP) — A plan to provide 12 nursing incubators and one transport incubator to nursing stations in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory has been approved by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

If one wants to make Quebec's opinion known at any price within the Conservative party, no doubt the most normal way of doing it is still to fight within the party and not outside it.

If one believes in the federalist formula, we believe the only way to improve the fate of Quebec within this (federalist) regime is still to work and to try to make Quebec opinion accepted within this political party.

On the other hand, the Quebec representatives of the Conservative party no longer believe in this formula and want to become another separatist party, we believe it would be preferable for them to work on the provincial level where a separatist party already exists. Their work would be more fruitful and more effective.

There is already on the federal scene a political grouping (the Creditistes) which is unique to Quebec. We have little sympathy for duplication in this field.

If the Quebec Conservatives no longer want to work within their party, let them simply withdraw.

One thing is certain, it is high time for (them) to affiliate somewhere, because the elections are approaching quickly. — Jean Lacombe (Feb. 13)

Ottawa Le Droit: After two days of bargaining, the 11 first ministers (of Canada and the provinces) have come to an agreement in principle on a formula of procedure for amending our constitution. This pact, 103 years old, no longer responds to the aspirations of a transformed country.

For the first time we can glimpse the possibility of achieving agreement on repatriation of the constitution which will be submitted to the next meeting of government leaders planned for June in British Columbia.

This clearing of the constitutional ground is a happy presage for the future of the Canadian nation.

It remains true that before bringing home (the British North America Act) it was necessary to agree on the content we plan for it. This is easier said than done in a country where each province has a distinct autonomy in certain fields. (But) the formula seems to have been achieved.

We are still far from a complete agreement. ... However, we can only agree with relief that this new stage in conciliation will give the constitution new and modern elements and conserve the essential rights of the central power while guaranteeing those of the minorities, including our own, who have in the past felt ignored, neglected and, at times, oppressed.

This misunderstanding must disappear, and the 10 provinces seem to have understood. Confederation can only be improved by it. — Fulgence Charpentier (Feb. 11)

Montreal La Presse: The Publicité-Club de Montreal proposes to spend comment on the following slogan in the next few weeks: "Advertising is Liberty."

Do you know what the results for death found on their arrival in Nazi concentration camps? The following slogan, written out in plain view by the Hitler administration: "Liberty is Work."

Which tends to prove that the word "liberty" really can be mingled in all sauces, even the most horrible. ... But what an unpardonable lack of taste to bring up the slogans of Nazism in reference to ad-men who, of all the engineers of our modern societies, are certainly the most pleasant, often the most intelligent, always the most civilized of men!

Don't rule out the possibility that this very society has something of the concentration camp to it, that the big city resembles a camp and that advertising remains one of the most eloquent symbols of this religion of progress to which we all adhere more or less conscientiously.

For many reasons, commercial advertising will not disappear from our world. ... But the omnipresence of commercial solicitation requires a counterbalance. This counterbalance is education.

The first effect of any education of the consumer should be to lead him to take into account the fact that he is immersed in a sea of slogans and his behavior as a customer is conditioned.

Most consumers deny this as the influence of the messages which they sometimes get to know by heart remains discrete and subliminal.

How to open their eyes without separating "advertising" and total "freedom" of choice?

The burden of proof ... lies with the advertisers themselves. Let's propose a test to them.

Let them gather together all the commercials offered on television in a single day so as to form a full-length film for presentation at 10 p.m.

They will then count the number of television viewers who have exercised the "liberty" of watching this film-commercial to the end.

In the United States some years ago, advertisers refused this proposition. — Guy Cormier (Feb. 15)

Could Nixon Use Nuclear Bombs?

By PHILIP DEANE
Foreign Affairs Analyst

Seriously fear is being expressed in Europe about the possibility of tactical nuclear weapons being used by the U.S. in Indochina, should either the South Vietnamese Army or U.S. forces face a serious defeat as a result of the attempt to take the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

It is not merely a question of extricating South Vietnamese troops that may find themselves isolated in Laos, as some have been. The whole policy of Vietnamization depends on the capacity of the Americans and their allies to interrupt the flow of Communist supplies and reinforcements to the South. If this flow cannot be interrupted, then the whole concept of Vietnamization is endangered: at any time, the Communists can launch a serious attack to destroy elements of the disengaging U.S. combat troops, or destroy non-combat troops engaged in purveying South Vietnam with logistical support.

Alternatively, the Communist attack could be concentrated on the South Vietnamese forces which would be taking over from the Americans. If this attack proved successful and considerable numbers of Americans were still in Vietnam, their lives would be endangered because they could no longer rely for protection on the South Vietnamese. In fact, should the South Vietnamese suffer a serious defeat, they might begin the process of defecting en masse to the Communists as Chang Kai Shek's forces did in 1949.

It would hardly be possible to rescue U.S. support troops by sending in U.S. combat troops, if the South Vietnamese collapsed. To begin with, the U.S. does not really have all that many combat-ready divisions. In the context of a South Vietnamese collapse, moreover, the U.S. would not be able to be sure of controlling landing sites and airfields with the limited numbers it would have available for such an operation. The non-combat U.S. units would be no match for the Communists and might well surrender to avoid being massacred.

To prevent such an ignominy, would Mr. Nixon use tactical nuclear weapons both against concentrations of Communist troops massing to attack his own and to render the Ho Chi Minh Trail radioactive and, therefore, impassable? The French believe that Mr. Nixon is patriotic enough—or enough of a bad loser—to forget anything but the need to avoid a humiliating defeat.

They believe he would use nuclear weapons. Soviet strategists have been saying in print that they too believe he would: this may explain why Moscow has been urging Hanoi not to press the U.S. too hard. Europeans with a more conspiratorial turn of mind believe that the Pentagon would use tactical nuclear weapons with or without presidential permission—Nixon would then give the permission and if he did not, he would be replaced by Agnew. But here we enter the realm of fiction.

Scientists Browsing About Country Try To Assess P.Q. Airport Effect

OTTAWA (CP) — Scientists strolling the peaceful countryside around Ste. Scholastique, Que., jot notes on the birds and cows and chat to village residents.

They're beginning an ambitious study of the impact of the proposed international airport there, 30 miles northeast of Montreal, on animals, birds, people, air, soil and water.

The $200,000, 18-month project is the first such in Canada and the forerunner of ecological precautions to be taken at future airports such as Toronto, where a second airport is scheduled.

Expropriated property as large as Montreal Island is being examined at Ste. Scholastique, where the airport is scheduled to open in 1974.

The site was chosen partly because it is not on any bird migration route, reducing the hazard of birds interfering with aircraft.

The scientists are also seeking to ensure that nothing is done to attract birds through the existence of garbage dumps and certain types of crops.

Seven scientists are being used from the universities of Montreal, Quebec, Sherbrooke and Laval led by Dr. Pierre Dansereau, professor of ecology at the Institute of Urban Studies at the University of Montreal.

The scientists range from geologists to social psychiatrists and there also are 20 graduate students in the program.

Two Primates Give Views On Ulster 'Religious' War

ARMAGH, Northern Ireland (CP) — William Cardinal Conway believes British troops should halt their searches of Roman Catholic homes and withdraw from the centre of Catholic neighborhoods.

The Roman Catholic primate of all Ireland, in his first press interview since the current wave of violence began, said that "for what it is worth, I feel troops and heavy armor should not be visible except when needed on the spot."

Archbishop George Simms, Anglican primate and head of the Church of Ireland, is more inclined to leave the direction of military operations to military commanders.

"That is a security matter on which I cannot have an expert opinion," he says speaking in his grey-stone palace on a rising hill, some distance from the Roman Catholic centre. "It is up to the military to make decisions."

The cardinal and archbishop work together, along with Ireland's Presbyterian moderator.

to condemn the use of violence, and to urge social solutions for Ulster's troubles. Both agree there is no hope of quick removal of deep-rooted animosity and cleavage within the Ulster population.

Cardinal Conway argues that "this is not a religious war—not a war about the Bible and theology." It is a conflict, he says, because of political, social, economic and cultural problems.

Asked whether priests are doing enough to avoid clashes by keeping persons off the streets, the cardinal grows impatient.

"The church is doing everything she can and a lot more than she credits for," he says. "Catholic church activity is intense at the grassroots and practically in every case where a riot occurs, a priest is on the ground urging people to get off the streets."

"In a great many cases they are successful. The trouble is that when not much happens, the situation is not photographed for newspapers."

Friests also are on a large number of peacekeeping committees, working with Protestant ministers who are engaged in the same task.

"Catholic bishops have time and again condemned violence in strongly-worded statements," he says.

"I myself have spoken against violence in fully-reported statements 23 times in the past two years. I have joined the heads of Protestant churches in joint television appeals four times in the recent period."

The problem, as the cardinal sees it, is that troops, searching for arms, move into the small terraced houses and temperatures of the Catholic occupants rise.

SOLDIERS IN KITCHEN

"Imagine the effect on a woman in a small house if five or six soldiers, armed to the teeth, stand occupying a small kitchen," the cardinal says.

The effect is in a sense irrational and deeply emotional. Added to this frustration and sense of invasion are bad housing and heavy unemployment in the Catholic districts.

"All these factors produce a state of tension and it requires only a spark to make this tension boil over into a riot."

"After that, you have a kind of chain reaction. The riot produces increased military action and this in turn builds further resentment."

The cardinal suggests that it may take months of continuous peace to eliminate the virus of violence from Northern Ireland. He suggests, also, that authorities push ahead with a continuous program of civil rights reform "carried out with sincerity and momentum."

While "a good deal of reform legislation" has been enacted, "one must remember that there is always a time interval between enactment and visible effects of that legislation in the form of houses, jobs and new electoral boundaries."

NEED SOCIAL REFORM

Archbishop Simms says Ulster needs social reform rather than a political settlement. The two major groups, Protestants and Catholics, cannot be expected to see alike politically.

Much work is being done, he says, in bringing the two religious groups together so that they could see what they had in common. This applied to children's summer camps and youth clubs. But in an atmosphere of violence "it is terribly hard to see the effects of education and community work."

From Armagh, ancient seat of Irish Christianity, the turmoil of Belfast tends to lose some of its immediacy. Compared with the metropolis 42 miles to the north-east, this town where St. Patrick founded his church 1,500 years ago, has the appearance of utter tranquillity though the Republican border is just 10 miles away.

Some commentators have suggested that church leaders cannot speak too strongly or they may find that some of their parishioners will not listen.

Maurice Hayes, a moderate Catholic who heads Ulster's community relations commission, says there has been "a falling away" from the churches. Some Irishmen on both sides of the border have grown impatient with lack of social progress.

Dr. Ramsey Starts Again Racist Row

LONDON (Reuter) — The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, has reopened the controversy over a decision by the World Council of Churches to give money to anti-racist liberation movements in southern Africa.

Dr. Ramsey told the general synod of the Church of England that the grants were made by the council as part of its program to combat racism.

"First, it must be recognized that the grants were made for a long list of projects for the relief of suffering and, in the case of a few organizations which have a military intention, it was stipulated that they should not be used for military purposes but for specific humanitarian actions." This stipulation, he said, had been accepted by the recipients.

Dr. Ramsey said that when he was in East Africa in December on his way back from South Africa, he was asked persistently why he did not support "our freedom fighters"—the "our," he said, referring to several African countries where the council's grants were taken as a kind of symbolic support for military action.

The archbishop said his reply was that if certain countries planned to go to war to liberate people who were oppressed, then the Christian churches must consider in a responsible way whether it was a just war, including the likelihood of a just and peaceful result after the bloodshed.

In that context, he added, the council's grants were encouraging a sort of emotional belligerence which did not face the serious questions which a just war or a just rebellion must involve.

"The council's program confines itself to white racism—a limitation which is mistaken. I yield to no one in my abhorrence of white racism and in my readiness to bear witness against it, but why in this symbolic act of ecumenical moral judgment limit the formula to white racism?"

Church Names Prairie Staff

REGINA (CP) — The United Church of Canada Friday announced the appointment of two new regional directors of the church's Prairie Region Broadcasting Council.

Ralph Milton, acting director of Intermedia, New York, a North American based church-sponsored service agency, and Alexander Bridge, promotion director of Bushnell Communications, Ottawa, will take up their posts in March.

Mr. Milton will make Calgary his headquarters while Mr. Bridge will operate from Winnipeg.

They succeed two ministers, Rev. Harold Alston of Edmonton, who has joined the staff of Mount Royal College, Calgary, and Rev. Gerry Wilson of Regina who resigned to become executive assistant to Allen Blakeney, leader of the opposition in the Saskatchewan legislature.

Announcing the appointments, Rev. Bruce Wartman, chairman of the council, said the directors would have as their main function "the encouraging, training and assisting of local radio and TV units in the presenting of programs . . . of concern and interest to children, teens and adults."

The council services the Conference of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba of the United Church.

COMMUNION MAY CHANGE

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Roman Catholics in 10 countries have been given Vatican permission to receive communion wafers in their hands and then put them in their mouths. The Vatican announced Thursday the change from the usual method of having a priest put the wafer on the communicant's tongue. Bishops conferences authorized to effect the new distribution of communion include those of Canada.

Ice Time Regulates Schedules In Families With Figure Skaters

By MARY GREER

Family involvement is the keyword in the sport of figure skating. When a young person takes up figure skating the whole family evolves around the time schedule for practice hours. If they skate in morning, mother or dad chauffeurs them to the rink or perhaps it is in the afternoon, or in the evening during the dinner hour.

Not only does the young skater have to be dedicated and prepared to sacrifice other interests, but the parents, also, must be prepared to forego other pleasures from time to time, to accommodate the skating schedule.

For instance, skaters on the early morning patch skate on Wednesdays and Fridays from 6 a.m. to 8 a.m. Can you imagine what this does to the ordinary household morning bustle?

Seniors and intermediates skate from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Sundays and on Monday the Junior A's skate from 3 to 4:30 p.m. while the Junior B's and intermediates take to the ice from 4:45 p.m. to 7 p.m. Seniors practise from 7:15 to 9 p.m.

On Tuesday, juniors and intermediates have the 3 to 5 shift and the seniors again have the last shift, 5 to 7:30 p.m. (the dinner hour).

The dinner hour is again the senior time on Wednesday, when they practise from 5 to 7 p.m. and on Thursdays, Junior A's have 3 to 4:30 p.m. and Junior B's and intermediates enjoy their dinner hour on ice, from 4:30 to 6 p.m.

ICE AT PREMIUM

Since there are 270 skaters in the Kelowna Figure Skating Club including 17 boys, ice time is at a premium as seen from the schedule; all groups only have three periods a week, averaging a maximum of nine hours each.

Residents of Kelowna and district will have the opportunity of seeing the culmination of their efforts this past season when they present their annual ice show on Feb. 26 and 27 in the Kelowna arena.

Club pros, Donna Johnson and Mrs. Mary Campbell have prepared a medley of numbers using Peter Pan and Broadway hits as the theme.

During the year many painstaking hours are spent in learning and perfecting the compulsory figures and dances for competitions which are set by the International Skating Union.

The figure eight, two circles joined at one point, is the basis for all figures. Some figures are plain circle eights, while others have turns called rockers, counters, threes, brackets and loops.

The moves and control developed from learning figures carries a skater through into free skating, pair skating and dances.

You can skate an eight both forward and backward and on either the inside or outside edges.

The three is another basic figure. It is like the eight but has an inward turn in the middle of each circle, opposite the starting point of the figure. The easiest three is the change from the outside forward edge to the inside backward edge of the skate. There are 41 figures altogether.

SIX IS PERFECT

Figure skaters includes singles, pairs and dance. To measure their progress, skaters take tests or enter competitions set by the International Skating Union. A panel of judges mark the skaters on a scale from which means 'not skated' to 6 which means perfect.

In singles competitions the contestants usually skate what are called school figures which count for about 50 per cent of their final score and a free skating program of their own choosing which counts for about 50 per cent.

Free skating is a means of expression for the skater by which he is enabled to show not only his skating ability and originality but also his interpretation of the music.

Free skating consists of a well balanced program of free skating components, jumps, spins, steps and other linking movements executed with a minimum of two footed skating, in harmony with the music of the competitor's choice. The skater has the complete freedom to select any of the foregoing components, the sum of which comprise the program.

Pairs do not perform figures, they only do free skating. Dancers skate to a definite pattern of compulsory dances and sometimes skate a free dance, an original program of dance moves to music they have selected.

In marking for free skating the difficulty of the technical merits are considered as well as the artistic impressions.

DANCES

Dances are divided into three categories, tango, waltzes and fox trots.

The preliminary dances include The Dutch Waltz, The Swind dance and the Canasta Tango.

To qualify for the Junior Bronze dance medal skaters must perform the Fiesta Tango, the Willow Waltz and the Ten-Fox.

The Senior Bronze medal is awarded to skaters performing the Fourteen Step, the European Waltz and the Fox Trot.

The Junior Silver medal requires passing marks in the American Waltz, the Rocker Fox Trot and the Tango.

The Senior Silver test includes, the Blues, the Paso Doble, the Starlight Waltz and the Killian.

The Gold, the highest award, includes Quick Step, Viennese Waltz, the Argentine Tango, the Westminster Waltz and a Rhumba.

Both Miss Johnson and Mrs. Campbell agree that good figure performances and good dances go together.

CHARACTER MOULDER

One mother of two girls in the club, notes that her daughters have learned self-discipline and responsibility during their skating lessons. It is not an easy sport that can be accomplished with little effort.

She also noted that both daughters improved in their studies at school, due, she believes to their greater powers of concentration acquired during figure practices.

They also learn to set goals and to work towards them. Besides, she adds, they do not have as much time for boy friends, when they are seriously pursuing figure skating. While it is an expensive sport, it is worth it from many points of view: developing both physical and mental health, learning to be both a good loser and a good winner.

While both parents get involved in this sport, mothers in particular, become more and more involved as the season nears the annual ice show, with costume making entering into the scene. All costumes are made by the mothers, and many fathers help to make props for the show.

EXECUTIVE

Executive for the club this year includes: president, Mrs. Marlene Miller, past president, Mrs. George Scott; 1st vice-president, Bert Vos; 2nd vice-president, Archie Campbell; secretary, Mrs. Pat Smith and treasurer, Mrs. Mary Welder.

Directors are Mrs. Carol Chatham, Mrs. Val Ritchie, Mrs. Doris Spall, Mrs. Eleanor Bulach, Peter Hamm, Arnold Bassett, Mrs. Donna Hunter, Mrs. Norah George and Mrs. Ellen Stewart.

Being A CGIT Leader Is Laughing At Self

By MARY GREER

Canadian Girls In Training—all too often the only time most of us give any thought to the CGIT is at Christmas time when they conduct their annual vesper service.

But the girls do meet regularly throughout the year and have discussion groups, plan projects and other activities, that promote their purpose: "As a Canadian Girl in Training under the leadership of Jesus, it is my purpose to cherish health, seek truth, know God, serve others and thus, with His help, become the girl God would have me be."

On my desk lies a copy of The Torch, the CGIT magazine, a lively little magazine full of reports and ideas.

One article that captured my attention, with sketches and rules for being a leader, is one of the best I've come across. All youth leaders and parents, included, might well think about them.

Being a leader—is saying 'I don't know' and then finding out...

- is being willing to change again and again.
- is letting other people get close to you.
- is being able to laugh at yourself.
- is feeling at home in moments of mass confusion.
- is thinking of others before yourself.

ANN LANDERS

Caution Is Keyword For Lone Women

Dear Ann Landers: I am a working girl who lives alone. Like many other such girls I am deeply concerned about the increase in muggings, assaults, rapes, burglaries and murders. A friend who lives in California sent me an informative mailing which was put out by Bruce Eastley, Deputy Marshall of Sacramento County. I have condensed the piece and hope you consider it worth printing. I know of no better way to get this information before the eyes of millions of women.

"Criminal activity is based on two factors: First, the desire to commit a crime. Second, the opportunity. Most of us can do very little about a criminal's desire. Opportunity, however, can be eliminated or diminished if one is alert and cautious. People who are not alert and cautious set themselves up as victims. Here are some practical suggestions that will reduce the single woman's chances for being victimized:

"When you leave your apartment or home and plan to return after dark, leave a light burning. Darkness is an advertisement that no one is at home. If you leave for dinner, turn on the TV or stereo. Electricity is cheap compared to a break-in.

"Never leave a key under a doormat, over the doorway or in the mailbox. An astonishing number of homes have been burglarized by amateurs who didn't have to break in. They knew where to find the key.

"If you are going on vacation, discontinue the milk and newspaper deliveries. Ask a friend to pick up your mail. Arrange to have the lawn kept up.

"Unless you are proficient at using a gun it is best not to have one. Any weapon can be used against you by an assailant. Chances are good that he is far more experienced with guns than you are. Moreover, if he sees your gun he may use his. More victims are shot by intruders than the other way around."—Daily Reader.

Dear Daily: Thank you for sharing this information with my readers. You can be sure millions of women are smarter now than before they read it.

RUTLAND

Teen Town Names New Sweetheart

The third annual fashion show and tea held on Feb. 10 was a success with about 150 present. The Sweetheart contestants, who did the modelling, made several appearances in different ensembles, many of their own making. Since the theme of the event was Aquarius, most of their speeches dealt with signs of the zodiac and decorations in the hall carried out the theme.

At the end of the evening, thank-yous were said by Ingrid Huber, hostess for the evening and last year's Teen Town Sweetheart, and by the commentator for the fashion show, Anita Schneider. Since it happened to be Ingrid's birthday, the girls presented her with a small gift. And for her efforts in arranging the fashion show and tea, Sue Kiewer, Rutland Teen Town's first mayor, was presented a beautiful bouquet of spring flowers.

The evening ended with refreshments prepared by the Rutland Lions Ladies, with tea and coffee served by the Sweetheart contestants.

STATUS OF WOMEN MEETING

Man Sums Up Action On Recommendations Women's Organizations Must Plan Action

A male spokesman attending the Status of Women meeting Thursday evening in the Kelowna Secondary School summed up the action for the 160 recommendations in the Commission report. "Women, themselves through their organizations will have to devise a plan of action to correct the inequalities that exist in the law, particularly in reference to jobs."

"Women's organizations," he said, "should be endeavoring to promote membership programs to mobilize the strength needed, similar to action taken by labor unions."

On a hopeful note, he added that there are very few men today who do not recognize that women are equal and the average man recognizes the capabilities of his wife.

"There are unlimited loopholes in the statutes, particularly regarding equal pay, ownership and credit. Many statutes do not treat women as an individual."

"Why should I be responsible for my wife's credit?" he asked. "If she is unwise in her shopping habits, why should I have to advertise in the papers that I am not responsible?"

PANEL

Discussion during the meeting, attended by some 41 women and seven men, was initiated by a panel, chaired by Mrs. Alice Runnalls, manager of the Kelowna Manpower Centre. Mrs. Runnalls, the mother of four children and a successful career woman, is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club who co-sponsored the meeting with the Adult Education Committee.

Members of the panel included Mrs. Anne Jujundzie, office worker; Terry Steward, city editor, Daily Courier; Joe Lobb, probation officer and Nora Farina, a teacher.

Mrs. Jujundzie, a native of Scotland, took her secretarial training in Edinburgh; also has completed courses in English 201, sociology and art education with the Pennsylvania State University and has a certificate in graphics and ceramics with the Kootenay School of Art.

In her varied career as secretary, bookkeeper, editorial assistant, she has worked for a publisher, grain merchants company, Canadian Union of Public Employees and B.C. Tree Fruits.

At present the mother of five, is a secretary-receptionist for the National Film Board of Canada and is also employed part time with B.C. Tree Fruits.

Nora Farina, who grew up in Vancouver and joined the Wrens as an officer in the Signals and Special Services in Eastern Canada, U.S.A. and Great Britain, received her graduate academic and practical background at the universities and in the neighborhoods of the largest cities of Great Britain.

A teacher with the Kelowna school system, she followed her professional inclinations in educational institutions as principal of Gris Grammar School, teacher training colleges, community resource centres, coordinator for university and ministry of adult and community education and welfare projects and senior lecturer in educational psychology.

She now finds herself midway between two cultures, sometimes rejected by both but determined to use both, to help all women through these critical stages of transition within the base of two cultural loyalties.

Terry Steward grew up in Kelowna and is presently city editor with the Kelowna Daily Courier. During his journalistic career, he has worked for wire services, the Vancouver Sun, in the Valley as Sports Editor at Vernon; and at Manning, Alberta, he owned his own paper. He returned to Kelowna in 1967 and was customer service manager with Westmill Carpets for three years.

Father of two young boys, he took time off to build his own home and then returned to his original love—newspaper work. Joseph Lobb is a British citizen, educated in the United States, who moved to Canada two and a half years ago. A pacifist, Mr. Lobb and his wife Rosemarie left the States for political reasons.

Twenty-six years old, he has served as radio announcer, journalist, editor and teacher and is now a provincial probation officer.

NO TIME FOR ROMANCE

Prelude to the panel was a film, No Time For Romance, which depicted the secret yearnings, the frustrations, the joys, the tribulations and the whole mixed 'bit' of a modern young mother of five children. Mrs. Jujundzie, in her opening remarks, spoke of the male and female roles and the artificial ones defined by society.

She referred to a real estate advertisement in which it states, "A home is a woman surrounded by a good house. In her opinion this implied that you're not a woman unless you're in it."

REASSESS ROLES

While she agreed that woman have a biological role and has in a patriarchal society been relegated to the home, "society has to reassess the roles we've laid out. Women are human beings and while she has definite responsibilities, basically she is an individual."

Terry Steward confided at the onset, that he was nervous in the female dominated atmosphere, and that he was puzzled about the Status of Women report and the Women's Liberation Movement. Were they two separate items or the same?

The chairman had informed him they were not necessarily connected.

Mr. Steward, who had read the 'report' agreed that woman has to have a status, but emphasized that she should maintain her identity as a woman. She must maintain this difference. "I find it attractive," he added.

Mr. Steward continued that there are certain areas where women must liberate themselves and they are not necessarily in the home or in business.

UTOPIA AHEAD

"Seldom do utopias pass from dream to reality but we are on the right path towards fulfillment through the report by the Royal Commission concerning the Status of Canadian Women, according to Miss Farina.

She quoted de Tocqueville, who wrote a long time ago, "One can evaluate the state of civilization on the basis of the way it treats its women." Our society today regards women's work as having no value. "This situation must change," she said.

"Any change is fearful, especially one affecting both politics and sex roles," she said, and added, "Women don't want to exchange places with men. Male chauvinists, science-fiction writers and comedians may favor that idea for its shock value, but as a social psychologist I say it is a fantasy based on ruling-class ego and guilt. Men assume women want to imitate them, which is just what white people assumed about blacks. An assumption so strong that it may convince the second class group of the need to imitate, but for both women and blacks that stage has passed. Guilt produces the question, 'What if they could treat us as we have treated them?'"

"That is not our goal," she said. "But we do want to change the economic system to one more based on merit-free access to good jobs and decent pay for the hard ones, women have been performing all along, including housework."

WOMAN PM

Miss Farina also prophesied that with women as half of the country's elected representatives and a woman Prime Minister once in a while, the country's machismo problems would be greatly reduced. The old-fashioned idea that manhood depends on violence and victory is after all, an important part of our troubles in the streets and in Korea, Vietnam and so on. "I'm not saying that women leaders would eliminate violence. We are not more moral than men, we are only uncorrupted by power so far. When we do acquire power, we might turn out to have an equal impulse toward aggression. Even so, Margaret Mead believes that women fight less often but more fiercely than men, because women fight only when cornered."

With tongue in cheek, Mr. Lobb said he had nothing against women and thought every man should own one. Challenging women, he reminded them that although they have had the right to vote since the 1920s, most women vote for the man with the nicest smile. He was fearful of the trend towards mutation of the sexes and mentioned Twiggy as an example.

Women in Canada have not accepted their responsibility in society, he noted.

During debate Mrs. Jujundzie pointed out that there is a certain security in the present role of women—the image is everywhere, in advertising, in the school system and it takes a long time to break this image.

Another woman in the audience pointed out the difficulties a mother encounters in the changing 'image'. She has helped her husband up the ladder of success, he has established himself and she has educated her children to find their own identity, to suddenly find she has not liberated herself. Now when she tries to seek her own identity, the husband has a 'Down Girl' attitude.

Another woman in the audience reminded the crowd of the legal struggle during the 20s to establish that women were persons and not just a chattel of some man.

EQUAL PAY

Equal pay was discussed thoroughly and Mrs. Runnalls said that in her position at Manpower she is often suspicious of loopholes that exist in the legislation regarding equal pay.

Mr. Lobb thought it was up to the individual to lay a complaint, but one woman was of the opinion that to put the onus on the individual was too precarious—could lead to a loss of employment and to unpleasant relationships. She thought it could be policed in the same manner as the minimum wage laws are enforced.

Equal opportunity for promotion and for good jobs was also discussed and individual examples of discrimination were cited by both panel and audience. One woman asked, "How many school principals in this school district are women?"

Mr. Lobb tossed the question back to the women, again, with the suggestion that if 51 per cent of the school boards were female they could resolve that problem.

Day care centres were thoroughly aired and Mr. Lobb pointed out that there are many unwanted children now. He was apprehensive that day care centres might aggravate this problem.

WHY

A concerned mother in the audience posed some pertinent questions. "In this beautiful world where all women are free, what are we going to do with children? Are we going to do away with families?"

"In this day of automation and less jobs, why are women seeking to join the job hunting population, complicating the situation? What are we building for?"

NHL ACTION

Seals Blanked: Canucks Nipped

By NICK FERRIS
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Phil Esposito broke into one National Hockey League club Friday night only to find himself on the doorstep of another.

The all-star Boston Bruins centre became the 30th National Hockey League player to score 250 or more goals when he notched his 49th this season as Boston blanked California Golden Seals 5-0.

In the only other game, Philadelphia Flyers nipped Vancouver Canucks 3-2.

In tonight's action, Chicago Black Hawks meet the Canadiens at Montreal, St. Louis Blues tangle with the Maple Leafs at Toronto, Pittsburgh Penguins play host to New York Rangers, Boston travels to Los Angeles to play the Kings, Detroit Red Wings are at home to Buffalo Sabres and Philadelphia Flyers meet the Golden Seals at California.

Toronto travels to Minnesota Sunday to play the North Stars. Detroit goes to New York, St. Louis travels to Buffalo and Chicago plays host to Los Angeles.

ONE SHORT OF 50

Esposito's marker in the final minute of the first period at Oakland moved the Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., native to within one goal of becoming the fourth member of the NHL's 50-goal club.

Only three players have scored 50 or more goals in one season. Maurice (Rocket) Richard became the first with Montreal in the 1944-45 season.

Team-mate Bernie (Boom-Boom) Geoffrion equalled the mark 16 seasons later.

Bobby Hull did it four times with Chicago, his best coming in 1968-69 when he notched 58 goals, an NHL season record that could fall this year under Esposito's torrid pace.

Esposito's goal and his 11th point came in his 57th game this season and the Bruins have 21 games remaining. The Bruins centre set the NHL record for most points in one season when he counted 126 in 1968-69.

Bobby Orr, Esposito's teammate, picked up one goal and added three assists in Friday's win, but trails Esposito, the league point-leader by 13 points.

NEVER IN TROUBLE

The Bruins were never in any trouble at Oakland, taking a one-goal lead in the first period, adding three within a five-minute space in the second, and scoring the fifth before the final period was half over.

The Bruins increased their lead to 3-0 in the second period. East Division lead over New York to 11 points while California remained in the West Division cellar eight points back of Los Angeles.

At Vancouver, the teams exchanged first-period leads before Simon Nolet broke a 2-2 tie with a 10-footer with less than 84 seconds remaining in the middle period.

The Canucks are one point back of sixth-place Detroit in the East Division. Philadelphia slipped to third place in the same division, one point ahead of Minnesota.

Goalie Duo Help Voyageurs

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A pair of hard-working goalies have pulled Montreal Voyageurs of the American Hockey League to within two points of the Eastern Division lead they held most of last season.

The Montrealers, hovering near the bottom of the four-team division this season, moved to within one point of the leading Quebec Aces with a 2-1 victory over Springfield Kings.

Voyageurs' goalie Ken Dryden had a big hand in the victory as he stopped 40 Springfield shots. The Aces, meanwhile, were shut out by Baltimore's Andy Brown.

The Clippers took a 2-0 win over Quebec at Baltimore and, in the only other game, Cleveland Barons whipped Providence Reds 6-2.

The Voyageurs could take the lead when they visit Quebec Sunday night, providing the Aces don't gain any points in their game today at Hershey against the Bears.

Goals by Terry Clancy and Terry Gray gave the Voyageurs a 2-0 lead in the first period at Montreal. Dryden held off the Kings until the third period when a shot by Brian Murphy got past him. The Voyageurs were outshot 41-22.

It was a goaltenders' duel at Baltimore between Brown of the Clippers and Quebec's Bob Taylor until the third period when John Cuniff scored.

Taylor was called to the Quebec bench in favor of an extra attacker in the final minute and Marc Dufour took advantage by scoring Baltimore's second goal into an empty net.

At Providence, the Barons ran their season goal total over the 200 mark when Grant Erickson scored twice along with single goals by John Goffton, Norm Beaudin, Walt McKechnie and Joe Johnston.

The Barons, despite their second-place standing in the Western Division, nine points behind Baltimore, have the best goal record in the league. Their 203 goals scored is tops while their 145 against is the lowest among the eight teams.

Neil Nicholson and Chris Odellson scored for Providence.

NHL SCORERS

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Boston Bruins' Bobby Orr dominated the score sheet as Boston Bruins coasted to a 5-0 win over California Golden Seals Friday night.

Orr scored a goal and added three assists, bringing his season total to 38 points on 28 goals and 70 assists.

Phil Esposito of the Bruins scored his 49th goal of the season. The high-scoring centre leads the NHL's scoring race with 111 points on 49 goals and 62 assists.

Canucks Named 'Man Of Year'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Canucks of the National Hockey League Friday received the Greater Vancouver Visitors and Convention Bureau's man of the year award for 1970.

Dud Polle, vice-president and general manager of the hockey club, accepted the award from Victor Burt, a member of the selection committee. Mr. Burt said the committee wanted to honor the team and found it impossible to single out any one player.

Sell-out games in the 15,570-seat Pacific Coliseum have been the rule since NHL hockey came to the city last fall, after a group paid $6 million for a franchise.

AHEAD 4-0, BUT . . .

They Were Stunned Again As Vernon Won It 9-8

Heads were hanging, some covered, and the sweat could be heard falling on floor. That was the scene in the Kelowna Buckaroos dressing room Friday, in the wake of a disappointing 9-8 loss to the visiting Vernon Essos.

Goaltender Ian MacCrimmon sat quietly in his corner with his head in his hands, defence-man Craig Einfeld took more than an hour to get changed, and others just sat stunned without saying a word.

The Buckaroos, looking for their first win against the Essos in more than a year, took a 4-0 lead in the first period, saw it dwindle to nothing, and then took an 8-7 lead at the 18:07 mark of the final period, before the roof fell in.

Red Cox, who hadn't been offensively effective all season against the Bucks, scored his second goal of the night 17 seconds later, letting go a long weak shot from 20 feet outside the blue line and watching it bounce through MacCrimmon's legs.

A KNIFE

Wayne Dye, a knife in the back of the Buckaroos all season, made the disgust complete at 19:14 of the third, blasting his patented low hard slapshot past MacCrimmon 20 feet out, for the winner and his third of the night.

For Dye it was the third time in a row in the Memorial Arena he had dealt the final blow against the Buckaroos. Two times previous the all-star left-winger had scored empty-net goals to give Vernon two-goal wins.

It was also the third time the Buckaroos had blown leads against the Essos who moved two points within second place Kamloops Rockets with the victory.

Bryan Matlock, Bruce Gerlach, Doug Manchak, and Ken Weninger gave the Buckaroos the 4-0 lead in the first period, with Dye getting his first at 19:22 to make it 4-1 going into the middle frame.

Goals by Cox, John Price, and Dye tied the game midway through the second period, but Manchak and Weninger each got their second of the night within a minute of each other to make it 6-4.

Jim Marsh deflected a Cox blast from the blue line past MacCrimmon to narrow the lead to one goal, but Manchak got his 34th goal of the season at 19:14 to give the Bucks a 7-5 lead.

The Essos came back in the third period, scoring their sixth goal at 8:44 of the frame with Ed Johnston getting the marker.

The Buckaroos seemed to have the game in control until 16:38 when Ernie Gare picked up a loose rebound in front of MacCrimmon to tie it at 7-7.

The final touch seemed to have been made at 18:07, when Ken Selinger got a powerplay tally, deking out substitute goaltender Wayne Price for what seemed to be the winner—but the "Dye" was cast.

MacCrimmon faced 39 shots on goal in the Kelowna nets, while Vernon's goaltenders, Harvey Love and Price combined to face 40.

For the Buckaroos, it was their 39th loss of the season and ninth against the Essos who were making their final appearance of the season in Kelowna.

The Bucks will be out to redeem themselves somewhat tonight, when they take on the Vancouver Centennials at 8:30. It will be ladies' night at the Memorial Arena, with ladies with an escort being admitted free.

Meanwhile, Victoria Cougars shut out Chilliwack Bruins 5-0.

led by Lon Miles' pair of goals. Greg Robinson, Rob Little and Ted Plowe also scored. Darryl Fedorak stopped 26 shots for the shutout while his teammates peppered Lee Holm with 44 tries.

At Penticton, Dan Ashman scored twice in Penticton Broncos' 4-3 defeat of Vancouver Centennials. The game wasn't decided until Ashman's second goal at 12:11 of the final frame.

Helping him with singles were Bob Nicholson and Fred Parent. Ray Todd scored two Vancouver goals and Bob Gaston had one to give Centennials a strong 3-1 lead early in the second.

Grant Williams scored three times, leading New Westminster Royals to a 5-2 win over Kamloops Rockets in the Royal City. Jim and John Dalzell scored the Royals' other goals. Jerry Holland and Kelly Pratt scored for Kamloops.

Fabulous Firth Sisters Highlight Winter Games

SASKATOON (CP) — Gymnastics shared the spotlight with skiing Friday as the Canada Winter Games moved into the last two days of its 10-day competition.

While the fabulous Firth sisters of Inuvik, N.W.T. were doing what comes naturally in sweeping the five-kilometre cross-country skiing events at man-made Mount Blackstrap, teen-aged gymnasts Wendy Nicholson of Toronto and Jean Gagnon of Montreal were putting on spectacular shows before overflow crowds at the 1,500-seat university of Saskatchewan Auditorium.

Miss Nicholson won three gold medals, Gagnon two as Ontario and Quebec waged their traditional battle for gymnastic honors. Nova Scotia provided the surprise in hockey by beating a strong Quebec entry 4-2 to establish themselves as a serious contender for the gold.

With the games due to end Sunday, Ontario appears headed for the medals title, having already amassed 33 golds, 27 silvers and 15 bronzes, well ahead of British Columbia with a 19-32 record. Quebec, on the basis of 17 gymnastic medals, moved ahead of Alberta into third place with 19-32-21.

Only six sports remain on the 16-sport calendar, but only skiing will produce medals today. Winners in all other events will be declared Sunday.

Gov.-Gen. Roland Michener will officiate at closing ceremonies in the Saskatoon Arena at 8 p.m. Sunday.

About 5,000 spectators lined a frozen-over lake at the foot of Blackstrap, 25 miles south of here, to see a field of 30 compete in the cross-country event in 30-degree temperatures. A light fog covered the course but there was little, if any wind.

Gold medal winner Shirley Firth averaged about 10 miles an hour with a time of 19 minutes, 56.4 seconds. Her twin-sister, Sharon, took the second-place silver in 20:38.

It turned into a family affair with the Allen sisters, Roseanne, 16, and Anita, 19, also of Inuvik, finishing third and fourth respectively.

Skiers will compete for medals today in the 10-kilometre relay.

Tim Sedgewick, 20, was the darling of the Saskatoon gym fans, winning the men's vault to give Saskatchewan its second gold medal of the games.

WINS HALF OF MEDALS

Miss Nicholson, who got half of Ontario's six gold medals, was excited about winning but admitted she doesn't compete for medals, "only for titles."

After performing, he said he was impressed with his work on the rings and so were the judges who gave him an 8.90 marking, one of the highest awarded in the two-day gymnastics competition which ended Friday.

HAS MANY COACHES

Blanchette said he has a coach at St. Francis High School, another at University of Calgary and also receives assistance from Yamashita Matsuda, a former world champion gymnast who now coaches at University of Alberta in Edmonton.

Pollution Study Outlined In Pringle School Paper

By MRS. A. F. JOHNSON

WESTBANK (Special) — George Pringle Secondary School's paper "Traffic", February issue is interesting to read and has some good pointers on pollution in the editorial by Hari Tonn — after going through many causes he came to the conclusion that man is still back in the cave, but now he is not discarding bone waste, he is discarding materials which are destructive to his environment, which mother nature cannot handle. The result therefore is a disaster.

Although man has the ability to control his environment he is not doing it and the purpose of the issue is to make people aware of the pollution program and do something about it, individually.

STUDY MADE
Recently the students made a water pollution survey under the guidance of Mr. Froom. Water samples from many sources from Kelowna to Peachland were submitted and treated on the same day, then they were incubated in darkness for varying lengths of time.

The sample taken from Brent's Creek was unmeasurable, therefore very polluted. From Swamp Road 3.6 after 50.5 hours, from Lab Tap 2.8 after 311 hours, Duck Lake 2.7 after 52 hours, Trepanier Creek 2.5 after 144 hours and so on; none were free of pollution.

A letter to the Editor from Nola Silzer, George Pringle exchange student to South Africa, published in the Traffic, is well worth reading.

The Dear Jenny column is amusing and the letter from Hairy Hilda is well answered by whoever answers. He suggests real low cut dresses and short short skirts then no one will notice hairy arms.

Reports from the elementary school were as written: the chess tournament in room 7 is progressing well, absenteeism taking its toll, division two has nine pupils absent out of 38. In division six Miss Mortenson's noon hour guitar classes are progressing well. The whole school is enjoying Mrs. Hooper's (division five) art class drawings of the staff.

Mr. John's class (division five) was pleased with the response from their letters to various government agencies across the country. All the pamphlets and pictures are now in the library.

Division two and three were interested in the dissection of a calf by Dr. Clarke. They were shown the circulatory system and various organs. This was done in connection with Grade Six's "How I Began" science unit.

A donut sale was held on Jan. 27, by Mrs. Hooper's class to raise money for the Junior Red Cross.

The girls and boys volleyball season has ended for Westbank Elementary; the girls won some of the games but the boys lost the two games that put them out of the tournament. This season the intermediates have floor hockey and the juniors have bucket ball. These house games take up noon hours for those who have nothing to do.

The Westbank Elementary School Litter Patrol has been organized under the sponsorship of M. Lawler. These are volunteer pupils of the upper grades whose job it is to patrol the school encouraging neatness and creating a sense of litter consciousness. To this end they wear a uniform to identify them. They record on a chart points given to each division for neatness. They hope all the pupils will help to keep the school tidy.

The Spirit Week held on Feb. 3, 4 and 5 was a huge success. The grad class made about $50 on Crunch Day, which meant that about one half the students crunched.

The teachers defeated the senior girls in a rigorous game of basketball despite help from the referees Peter Wannop and Harry McGowan. Many good ideas were turned in for improving the school spirit as a result of the spirit discussions. The indoor Track Meet went over with unbelievable success. The Athletic Council did a fantastic job in raising school spirit.

The drama club is getting ready for its concert which will be shown to the public on March 25 and 26, the play "The Perfect Idiot". The student's council is holding a contest for a "Cheer" for George Pringle School. A prize is offered. Two students are working on the Westbank Centennial '71. The committee hopes that by working with teenagers it will be able to interest more young people in Westbank's Centennial celebrations and projects. The three councils are also planning a centennial project for the school which will be announced soon.

Grade nine and ten drama class and the Theatre II group will stage three one-act plays Feb. 24 at 7:30 p.m. These are: "Oh Baby", "Miner's Daughter" and "He Tried With His Boots On".

BORN AT SEA
PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Millard Williams, Ocracoke, N.C., gave birth to an eight-pound daughter aboard a Coast Guard patrol boat which ran aground as it was carrying her to a doctor on Hatteras Island. A Coast Guard helicopter from Elizabeth City, N.C., flew Dr. Dan Burroughs from Hatteras to the grounded boat in time to deliver the baby, 5th District Coast Guard headquarters reported.

Have 2 doors kept you out of a Volkswagen?

For some people, even the world's most practical car just isn't practical.

Which meant that up to now, if you wanted a car with four doors and you wanted a Volkswagen too, you were out of luck. (And so were we.)

But not any more. Now there's a big Volkswagen with four doors.

The new VW 411. Because it's a big car, it can give you everything a big car can.

A spacious interior. A big engine.

And steady, of trunk space.

But, because it's a Volkswagen, it can also give you everything a big car can't.

Like mileage: around 27 mpg.

Volkswagen craftsmanship.

And dependability.

So when you get a 411 you get a big car without getting any big car problems.

Because remember, even though it says 411 on the back, it still says VW on the front.

Runners Stun In Relays

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) - Jim Ryun credited the last place finisher and Kerry O'Brien credited the track as both raced to world record victories Friday night in stunning displays of distance running.

Ryun, with an incredible 3:54 mile run, tied the seven-year-old world indoor record of Tom O'Hara, and returned as king of the middle-distance hill. He sat out 1969 and 1970 after the pressure of an Olympic Games defeat wrecked his mental timing.

But the feat flashed with the old Ryun sting in the San Diego Indoor Games, despite a planned "runaway" by Chick LaBenz of the Pacific Coast Club and team-mate John Mason.

"Dick Quax made the race for me," Ryun said of the New Zealand star who finished last in the field of four. "He started picking it up and I didn't know if I could get him or not. When he moved, I tried to go with him."

Shortly afterwards, O'Brien of Australia ran two miles in an astounding 8:19.2, surpassing the previous world indoor mark by eight seconds and also surpassing the best ever run outdoors, an 8:19.8 by countryman Ron Clarke.

HE'S STUNNED

"Unbelievable. I'm stunned," said the effervescent O'Brien, the world outdoor 3,000-metre steeplechase record holder. "This is a fantastic track and the way things were going half way through, I knew I had a chance."

The pace-setters were O'Brien and countryman Kerry Pearce, co-holder of the old world mark with George Young of the U.S. Pearce and O'Brien raced head and head until they completed one mile in 4:09. At that point the pair left the field behind.

Blazers Move Up

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Oklahoma City Blazers moved into third place in the Central Hockey League Friday night, defeating Amarillo Wranglers 6-4.

In other games Friday night, Omaha Knights defeated Tulsa Oilers 8-5 and Dallas Cowboys downed Kansas City Blues 4-2.

Oklahoma City now has 61 points, two more than idle Fort Worth Wings. Omaha is in first place with 76 points while Dallas has 63 for second.

Fred O'Donnell scored two goals for Oklahoma City with others coming from Don Tannahill, Bill Klatt, Jim Adair and Ivan Boldirev. Ron Snell scored two goals for Amarillo with others coming from John Stewart and Bill Fitchner.

Pierre Jarry, Rick Newell, Bert Wilson, Ab Demarco, Bill Knibbs, Mike Parizeau, Gerry Ouellette and Gary Coalter scored for Omaha. Gordie Nelson, Murray Heatley, Gerry O'Flaherty, Doug Brindley and Jean Payette scored for Tulsa.

Terry Caffrey scored twice in the final three minutes to break a tie and give Dallas its victory. Defenceman Doug Marks and Barry Long scored Dallas's other goals. Dick Procevat scored both Kansas City markers.

Two Golf Pros Each Have Wish

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - Two tour-lounged but non-winning pros shared the lead going into today's rain-delayed second round of the $110,000 Tucson open golf tournament—and each expressed a wish that didn't include victory.

"I just wish, right now, I had one-half the ability my uncle Sam still has left," said J. C. Snead, 29-year-old nephew of the immortal Sammin Sam.

"I'm happy, really happy, with my round and the way I played," said Dewitt Weaver, "but I just wish so much that I'd get that 65."

The two tied for the first-round lead—the round was delayed by a day because of heavy rains Thursday—with 66s, and the greying Weaver lost sole control of first place when he went one over on the final hole.

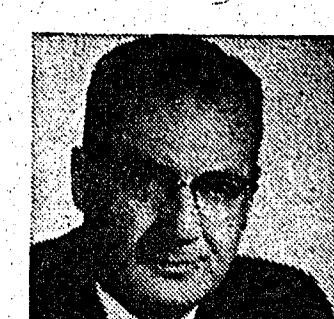

Wayne Volmer of Vancouver was five strokes off the pace with 71. Close behind were Gary Bowerman of Toronto with 72, followed by Bob Kern of Toronto and Ken Fulton of Montreal, each with 74s. Al Baiding of Toronto stroked a 76.
